

Winter Carnival

Hoopsters Take to Road on Weekend

After much planning and deliberation, the Winter Carnival executive committee has made public the ticket policy to be in effect for this year's Carnival. The main change from last year is the doing away with the "blanket" ticket system. This year single tickets are being sold for each event.

Ticket sales commence on Wednesday, Feb. 9 at the Gym and on Thursday, Feb. 10 on the campus. Tickets are being sold on the campus at the following places: Union, 10.00 a.m.-4.00 p.m.; Engineering Building, 12.00 p.m.-2.00 p.m.; Arts Building, 10.00 a.m.-1.00 p.m. Tickets for the evening at the Forum (Friday, Feb. 18) only are being sold downtown at the following places: Lord's Sport Shop; Hyman's Cigar Store (St. James St.); Joey Richman's Sport's Shop; Jerry Snyder (Queen Mary Rd.); and Morgan's.

PRICES LISTED

In a special release yesterday, Jacques Trautau, vice-chairman and financial expert on the Carnival announced the following rates and figures regarding ticket prices: "Carnival Night" on Mt. Royal (Wed. 18): The evening is free with the exception of a small charge for toboggan and sleigh rides. Athletics Night at the Gym (Thurs. 17):—$1.00 per person. Friday—Up North (Fri. 18):—Train fare is $1.75 return. Special rates for ski tows and meals for McGill students at St. Sauveur will be announced later.

Forum Night (Fri. 18):—Boxes and Promenade ... $2.00 Mezzanine ... 1.75 Amphitheatre ... 1.50 Circle ... 1.00 General50

Notes Re Tickets

Mt. Trautau stressed (i) that tickets for the Forum would be sold only at the Gym or downtown, and not on the campus; (ii) that all tickets for this event may be bought at a 25c discount if a student coupon is presented. (However this applies only if tickets are bought at the Gym.) (iii) Since all seats including the Circle are reserved, only 1,500 students will be allowed in on General admission. Therefore students are advised to get there early or buy reserved seats. (iv) No General tickets will be sold before the night of the Forum affair — they will all be sold on the night of the game at 50c or at 25c plus a student coupon. Any other priced ticket may be obtained at the Gym beforehand.

Ski-Jump (Sat. afternoon, Feb. 19th): 50c per person. Grand Carnival Ball (Sat. 19th): $1.50 per person.

Iley, Dawson Dawson Students Note! Tickets will be sold at Dawson on one day only—Monday, February 14th from 12 to 2 p.m. in the Dining Hall. The sales-women will be the five final Carnival Queen Candidates. Since the voting for the Queen is on the same day, Dawson students may now see in person who to vote for.

This system as worked out by the executive is expected to be much more economical and appropriate than last year's blanket ticket system.

Students are advised to buy all their tickets as early as possible, especially for the Athletics Night, the evening at the Forum and the Carnival Ball as the Gym and Forum will only hold so many people and it is expected that tickets will sell rapidly in circles other than the McGill Campus.

NOTICE

Dr. M. Heitzman, formerly Professor of the History of Philosophy in the University of Cracow and member of the staff of the Polish Embassy in Moscow (1941-42) will lecture tonight (Friday) under the auspices of the Polish Institute of Arts and Sciences. The lecture will be given in Room 44, Arts Building, at 8:15 p.m. Subject: "Events behind the iron curtain in the light of Marxism and Leninism."

Big Chief Howie Ryan's Redmen take to the warpath this weekend on a do-or-die suicide trip. The Redskins are headed for London where they hope to corral the mighty Mustangs and from there retrace their steps to visit Toronto where the Varsity squad awaits their coming with anticipation.

The Toronto team defeated Assumption and dropped a close one to the mighty Mustang crew last week-end. The Redmen lost to the Mustangs in their first encounter two weeks ago. According to the mathematics of comparative scoring, the Redmen are due for a rough week-end. However don't sell Ryan's Raiders short, for it must be remembered that before dropping that one to Western, McGill held the haughty Londoners on even terms for nearly three-quarters of the game. The Redmen also were away off their shooting and this contributed greatly to the defeat.

The 'line-up for the game' had to undergo a shake-up as Ron Sharper will be unable to accompany the team on the trip. His place is being taken by Mitch Garfinkle, one of the stellar performers on the Intermediate squad. Bobby Duford will only be dressed for the London game, and he will return home Friday night. This will leave Mentor Ryan one man short for the Toronto fray.

Also on hand for the week-end's business will be dependable Dave Caldwell, high scoring guard, Myer Bloom, the team's leading scorer, with eighty-nine points and lanky Bud Fraser whose return to something resembling his old-time form last Friday night, was viewed with appreciation by Coach Ryan.

The roster is rounded out by Smiley Wilson, Elie Godel, Hy Berger, Lou Endman, and Lip Plewelling, all of whom are in top condition and raring to go.

Rev. Sargent To Speak at S.C.M. House

"The Challenge of Christian Missions in Poland" will be the topic of an address by the Rev. A. L. Sargent in the S.C.M. House, 3374 University St., on Monday, 7.30 p.m.

Mr. Sargent, who has just returned from a three-year stay in Poland is a native of that country and first came to Canada twenty years ago. He received his primary education in Poland, studied in the University of Paris, and took his theological training at the Montreal Diocesan College.

Mr. Sargent is a convert from the Hebrew faith and his relief work among Jews in Warsaw will form the background of his talk. Mr. Sargent also did work among students and attended a student conference in Geneva last year.

Daily Staff Members Hear Kennedy on Journalism

By Buzz Ann Summer

The Daily is starting a new series of lectures for their staff members and anyone on the campus interested in journalism next Thursday, February 10, at one p.m. in the Union. The first speaker in this series will be Mr. Roderick Kennedy, B.S.A., editor-in-chief of the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

The purpose of these meetings is to give those interested, the theory of journalism which will complement the practical writing experience which they gain writing for The Daily. Mr. Kennedy will speak on the general side of journalism as opposed to news writing in particular.

Mr. Kennedy is well acquainted with the field of journalism as he was brought up in a journalistic atmosphere, his father having been city editor of the old Montreal Witness, war correspondent during the Riel Rebellion, and editor of The Times, London, Weekly Edition, as well as the author of many books.

Mr. Kennedy, himself, at an early age aided his father in reporting annual meetings for The London Times. He attended MacDonald College where he was active on the college magazine. Following a period in the army during World War One, Mr. Kennedy joined the Montreal Star, and in 1939 he joined the staff of the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

"The Road South" is the title of a novel written by Mr. Kennedy. It should prove interesting to McGill students as it deals with a McGill medical student and a doctor, also a McGill man. The books tell of their encounters and experiences together during the first world war.

Mr. Kennedy is a past President of the Canadian Authors' Association, and he has had considerable experience speaking in public, as he has travelled across the continent several times speaking before many clubs and societies. He will give several talks in this series to McGill students.

Statement By L.P.P. Executive

EXTRACT FROM THE MINUTES OF MEETING OF McGill L.P.P. Club, held on 3rd February, 1949.

The membership of the club accepted the resignation from executive posts of Lionel Albert, Daniel Nerenberg, and Alan Zinnman. To the posts thus vacated the club elected provisionally, Lou Gotthel, Nat Kalichman and Marc Francoeur.

Statement by Provisional Executive of McGill L.P.P. Club. We consider the arbitrary and unconstitutional action of the Union House Committee in banning our club from official use of the Union, to be a flagrant violation of the principles of student democracy and academic freedom.

The fact that three members of our club took certain individual actions must by no means be construed as the deliberate policy of the McGill L.P.P. Club. Our club has never in the past, and never will encourage or condone the violation of University, S.E.C. or Union House Committee regulations.

The McGill L.P.P. Club has in the past, and will continue in the future to encourage the reading of the Canadian Tribune by the greatest possible number of students. The club is therefore, very pleased with the assurances of the Union House Committee that the reading of this newspaper by students will be facilitated by placing the Canadian Tribune on sale at the Union Book Shop.

However, we feel that student lack on two counts:

1) The Constitutions of both the Students' Union and the Students' Society have been violated in the matter of the banning of the club; 2) and that bad faith has been shown by a member or members of the Union House Committee or S.E.C. in supplying information for the inspired article which appeared in the Montreal Star of February 2, prior to the notification of the club.

We are very shocked at this action, in view of the fact that when members of the executive of the Progressive Conservative Club took illegal steps against the Student Labour Club, and were reprimanded for their action by the S.E.C., there was no suggestion of any collective punishment for the Progressive Conservative Club.

We can therefore only regard this unilateral action against our club as being a case of discrimination against one particular political club on this campus.

Cliff Malone, Royal Star, Chooses Law Profession

By BOB BORNSTEIN

Cliff Malone is like any other McGill student. He wants to be a lawyer and is therefore studying Law at the university. But there's another angle to be considered. Besides his studies, Cliff manages to find time to undertake a full time job—that of playing hockey for the Montreal Royals.

Cliff does well in both these tasks. In fact as a puck-chaser he is rated so highly that many observers feel that he would make good in N.H.L. ranks. So here we have a young man who has a bright future in two fields. He might become a top-flight lawyer or a star hockey player.

But Cliff has made his decision. He intends to continue his Law career, thereby forsaking the chance to make headlines as an NHL performer. To him hockey is merely a hobby, an extremely lucrative one, it should be added. He enjoys playing for Royals and the Royals are pleased to have him in their happy family.

The amazing Mr. Malone, as he has been dubbed, is currently Royals' high scorer with a total of 67 points (24 goals and 43 assists). This is quite amazing to put it mildly when all the facts are considered. First of all, attending McGill and making trips with a team at the same time presents quite a problem. Usually after a strenuous game and bus or train trip, he arrives in Montreal in the early hours of the morning and then has to make an 8.45 lecture (he has one every week day morning.)

But he gets along. He manages to make up for the loss of sleep in the course of the day. And of course, Cliff must spend long periods of time reading up on cases, just as any other Law student. Then there are hockey practices as well as the games to further his activity.

FAMOUS UNCLE

There is an interesting sidelight to the Malone case. Cliff is the nephew of former NHL great, Joe Malone, who holds the best goal-getting record of them all. In his finest season, the latter scored 44 goals in 22 games, an achievement that surpasses by far any scoring feats in the Big Time.

It may have been that the fame of his uncle inspired Cliff to play hockey and in his teens he quickly established himself in Junior circles campaigning for Royal Juniors. In the latter half of the 1945-46 season, his ability as a goal-getter caught the notice of the parent Royal Seniors and he got his big chance in the play-offs that year as Royals went to the Eastern Finals.

The following year he was a regular. Then last winter he really came into his own as a Senior Group star, accumulating 67 points (18 goals and 49 assists). The fact that linemate Gerry Flamond broke the Q.S.H.L. scoring record with 51 tallies was largely due to his great play-making ability.

This season, with 21 games left on the schedule, he has as many points as he tallied a year ago, so there's no doubt that the amazing Mr. Malone has hit his peak in the puck wars.

With the Royals at present trying to fight off an epidemic of injuries, Malone's value to the team has been emphasized to a great extent. Despite line-changes and the necessary shifting of players brought about by these injuries to key men, Cliff has maintained his high standard of play. His position as leading scorer of the team speaks for itself.

Malone has been bothered by a nasal condition which causes him to have difficulty breathing while in action on the ice. He may undergo an operation in an effort to remedy the situation.

It's not very often that one finds a person excelling in two full time jobs. But Cliff Malone is one of those rare exceptions. He has the ability to succeed in his chosen profession and along with that, he's what is known as a swell guy, respected by all who have come in contact with him. There's no better way to sum up the character of Cliff than to say: he's a real Royal!

Dents Ball Tonight

Ticket sales for the annual Dental Ball, staged by the McGill Dental Undergraduate Society, are reported as "good" and may still be obtained at the door this evening. The price of the tickets is five dollars per couple.

The Ball gets under way tonight at 9:30 at the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium, music being supplied by Archie Etienne's orchestra. Dress for the Ball is optional and students should not refrain from attending on the grounds that they lack formal attire.

Admission is open to anyone wishing to attend and those who do attend are assured of an exceedingly pleasant time.

Phys. Ed. Skating Party Tonight

The next in a series of social events will take place in the form of skating party and dance tonight at 7:30 p.m. All Phys. Ed. students are invited to bring their friends to the McTavish rink to skate for a couple of hours before heading for the h.w.f. room for refreshments and dancing. This is one of several parties that Phys. Ed. Undergraduate Society has sponsored this year; there have already been three Freshmen Reception "mixers", as well as a party put on by each individual year. The next major event is the "Phys. Ed. Formal" to be held on March 4.

exclusive use of college students. These buses would be for the use of the students and would entail no extra expense SEC members felt that the buses would prevent students from freezing while waiting to get home.

Miss Anne Radley was appointed to investigate the possibility of securing this special bus service.

McGill Players Club submitted a request for a grant of $50 to enable them to enter the Drama Festival to be held in the Sun Life Building in the near future. The request was granted by the SEC.

Unnecessary Expense

In the question of identification of undergraduates during voting, the Council felt that it would be unnecessary expense to issue identification cards. The assistance of graduate representatives was requested to help eliminate the possibility of graduate members voting on student society issues.

A recommendation to redecorate both the men's and women's common rooms in the Arts Building will be made to the Comptroller by the SEC. President Robert Gill and Women's Union President Anne Radley were appointed to approach the Comptroller on this matter.

The Red and White Committee reported a profit of $871 for this year.

Mr. Shearman was appointed to the Election Committee of the Winter Carnival for the election of the queen.

The crowded rink on McTavish street was discussed. The S.E.C. decided that a strong representation to the S.A.C. be made and the suggestion that the situation be corrected be put forward.

Dr. B. P. Babkin to Speak Here Monday

Dr. Boris P. Babkin, D.Sc., LL.D., F.R.S.C. former Research Professor of Physiology at McGill will speak on Monday, February 7 at 5 p.m. in the Conservatorium recital hall. The title of his lecture is "Emotion, Music, and Artists."

Dr. Babkin is an authority on animal physiology, and has made an inestimable contribution to this field of study with his innumerable papers and lectures on the Physiology of Gastro-intestinal Secretion and McGill.

Before coming to McGill in 1928 Dr. Babkin at one time worked as an assistant in the laboratory of Prof. I. P. Pavlov, the brilliant Russian physiologist, and later he worked under the Medical Research Council in London. He has travelled extensively, lecturing to prominent organizations and universities in the United States and Canada.

In his lecture on Monday he will include in the discussion the roles which the different parts of the brain play in the appreciation and understanding of music, and the character of emotions and their necessity to the artist.

At present Dr. Babkin is doing research work at the Montreal Neuro-physiological Centre, and he has recently returned from a few days at Queens University, where he was guest speaker.

The Music Undergraduate Society wishes to extend a cordial invitation to all students to hear a lecture which promises to be of great interest to musicians and laymen alike.

Every university in Canada except McGill, has a book store, said Mr. Bryant, who suggested that capital for the store be obtained by assessing each student $10 on their entrance to McGill. This amount would be refunded at the end of the student's stay in University.

Vote Suggested

To determine the students' opinions on this matter, Mr. Bryant suggested that a referendum be held on the campus. This co-operative store would decrease the cost of books for the students and would make the books available at the beginning of the college session.

To facilitate transportation for students requiring bus service, Mr. Bryant also suggested that the SEC request the Montreal Tramways to obtain special buses to leave the University and travel express to various points in the city.

Reporter Surveys Opinion on Ban

By GERALD N. F. CHARNESSE

(Editors Note.) The following comments are a random sampling of campus opinion and do not constitute a scientifically conducted survey.

The outstanding topic today is the fact that the L.P.P. club was denied the use of the Union pending further investigation. Thus the question for the week is "What do you think of the action of the Union house committee in banning the L.P.P.?" Before going on, however, I would like to point out that there were many people who refused to be quoted, and others who had no opinion on the matter.

First interviewed was Fred Blumm, Com. 1. He stated, "I think that they were right in banning it, but shouldn't there have been a public hearing before such drastic action was taken."

"There are four points I would like to make," said Nat Wolfe, Grad. in answer to the question. "First, that disciplinary action is the sole responsibility of SEC. The Union cannot actually bar anyone. Secondly, the action of SEC in suspending the LPP club pending investigation is simply fantastic! Thirdly, if members of an organization break rules they should be treated as individuals unless they state that they are acting under orders from that organization. And lastly, it is not the duty of any club to discipline its members. If they break SEC regulations this is the duty of SEC."

Fred Hughes, B.A., commented, "If it makes more room for the horses I'm all for it."

lieve that the LPP is behind this defiance of the Union's rule, so that when the Union cracks down on them they can assume their favourite martyr role. They thus make themselves the defenders of free speech."

I then spoke to Niels Nielsen, B.A. 2, who said, "It's the only fair punishment for those who do not conform with set rules and regulations governing all such bodies. The LPP Club have repeatedly broken rules laid down in respect to the Union, and as such deserve to be punished. Obviously however there is much more here than meets the eye."

"Well really, I think there is no reason why they shouldn't be allowed."

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

The greatest elation an individual can experience is that which comes from the knowledge that through his work he has brought a measure of satisfaction to others. It is not easy for students to include welfare activity in their crowded schedule, but certainly this is an obligation which must not be ignored.

Scattered over Montreal's more indigent districts are institutions designed to shelter neglected children from the dangers of unsupervised development on the city streets. Some of these are nurseries. Here, mothers who are compelled to leave their homes and work for the family's subsistence, entrust their children.

At other places, such as the University Settlement on Dorchester, school children from disorganized families which have inadequate financial support, receive lunches every day.

In addition, groups of men and women plan activities — physical, cultural and intellectual — to interest the children and thus provide them with a nucleus of friends and constructive activities. Children of all races and nationalities are brought together here in their common search for the security and satisfaction of fundamental needs which are their civic rights.

In order that these services may be improved and expanded, volunteers are needed. The work is not widely publicized, but it is vitally connected with the roots of community life. The mere realization of this is not sufficient — only action can help. For this reason, the Women's Union has in operation a voluntary service group co-operating with the Montreal Women's Voluntary Service. The purpose of this campus group is to enlist volunteers and to guide them to the most needy places. At present, the following workers are required:

At Kyndall House on Seigneur Street, day-nursery volunteers are needed any day except Thursday, from 11:45 to 1.00, to take children home and to bring them back.

At Griffintown Settlement, women are required to give sewing instruction one evening a week and teach cooking. In addition, volunteers are wanted for afternoon work with pre-school children.

Iverley Settlement needs someone one afternoon a week from 3.30 to 5.00 to work in a children's library.

Besides these requirements of the settlements and the day nurseries, many people are needed to make cancer dressings and to read for the blind. Those interested can get further information from Monica Hurlbut, R.V.C., local 321.

Your help is urgently needed. S.G.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

L.P.P. Resignations

The Editor,
McGill Daily:

We the undersigned, former executive members of the McGill L.P.P. Club, take this opportunity to inform the student body of our resignations from our executive posts.

We do so because we feel that our individual actions have been falsely linked with official club policy, and our continued presence on the executive would tend only to cloud the real issue at stake, which is the arbitrary and unwarranted suspension of the club.

Dan Nerenberg
Allan Zinman
Lionel Albert.

Disgusted

The Editor,
McGill Daily:

Allow me to voice my protest of the action of the Union House Committee in temporarily denying the L.P.P. the facilities of the McGill Union. I consider this action as a stupid blunder for these reasons:

1. Such action is very serious in nature and should not be undertaken without the popular vote of the whole student body.
2. An individual or a group is to be considered innocent until the contrary is proved.
3. Such action is helping the L.P.P. to grow stronger by arousing public resentment against persecution.
4. It would establish a dangerous precedent and might result in the suspension of other campus clubs in the future prior to investigation and the consent of the whole student body.

I would also like to state that I am anti-communist and the reason why I so strongly condemn such action is because it will nourish the growth of communism. I believe two good weapons that could be used against communists on our campus is ridiculing and ignoring them.

The statement by the Executive of the L.P.P. that the sale of the Tribune is not the club's policy is a gross falsehood. For if it is not, then why should the President of the L.P.P. himself approach me, as he did on two occasions and attempt to sell me the Tribune? And I further believe that the charges of the Union House Committee are absolutely true. However what I object to is the action that was taken, and for the reason that it will only strengthen Communism.

Yours truly,
"Disgusted"

Crepeau Quits

The Editor, McGill Daily,

Dear Sir,—Through the medium of the "Letters to the Editor" column, I should like to make it known that I have resigned from the Students' Executive Council's Investigating Committee.

I feel that my position as chairman of the Union House Committee makes it improper for me to serve on a special committee investigating charges that we of the House Committee have made. It is of paramount importance that the Investigating Committee's task be carried out in a fair and most impartial manner.

Sincerely yours,
JACK CREPEAU.

Mr. Culbertson Please Note

The Editor, McGill Daily,

Dear Sir,—We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Features Department of the Daily for the introduction of a new column "Contract Bridge" by Sam Gold. Mr. Gold, an alumnus of McGill, is now one of the two Canadian Life Masters of the American Contract Bridge League. We feel sure that many students join us in appreciation of the new column's instructive and humorous qualities, and we hope to see it continued in the future.

Once again congratulations!

Statement

The Editor, McGill Daily:

The action of the Union House Committee in banning the McGill L.P.P. Club because of the alleged infringement of Union House Committee rules is entirely unwarranted and without foundation.

We the undersigned want to make the following facts known to all. Our action in selling the Canadian Tribune on the steps of the Union was on our personal initiative and for the following reasons:

Alan Zinman submitted a letter to the Daily discussing the question of the Tribune on the campus. The purpose of this letter was to acquaint the student body with the facts pertaining to the events following the banning of the Tribune in the Union. Further, the letter wanted to expose the failure of the House Committee to implement the months-old ruling of the S.E.C. to put the Tribune on the news racks in the Reading Room. The Daily refused to print this letter even after it was revised at the request of the Editor-in-Chief. It was in sympathy with Alan Zinman's effort to clarify the issue, and in order to bring the matter away from the tete a tete discussions and kindly rejections, to the student body at large that we undertook to sell the Canadian Tribune in front of the Union.

This action was not in keeping with any club policy, but purely on personal initiative. If the Union House Committee feels that we have broken any Union House regulations then we are prepared to defend ourselves before the student body. We very strongly feel that to blame the McGill L.P.P. Club for any private activities of individual students is to deprive them of their student rights.

Daniel Nerenberg, B.A. 2; Alan Zinman, B.Sc. 3; Lionel Albert, B.A. 3.

ED. NOTE: The letter in question was submitted two weeks ago. It contained: a) a personal attack on a student on campus; b) an attack on the President of the Union for allegedly not implementing an S.E.C. ruling that the Tribune be displayed in the reading room; c) an item concerning a Daily matter.

Mr. Zinman was contacted by the editor and advised that: a) it is the policy of the Daily to close its columns to information it knows to be in slander, mud-slinging, and personal attacks on students, and b) a committee of the S.E.C. was formed last year to make available to the students publications representing the major political parties in Canada by posted copies of such newspapers on the reading-boards in the Union. That this has not been done is not the responsibility of the President of the Union.

Mr. Zinman was advised that his letter could then not be printed so long as it contained the personal attack, and the misrepresentation of the S.E.C. ruling.

Mr. Zinman was advised that if he amended his letter to drop the personal attack and restate the portion concerning the SEC ruling, it could then be included. The portion concerning the Daily matter was correct and impersonal, and thus eligible.

Mr. Zinman resubmitted his letter one week later to the editor-in-chief. It still contained the personal attack, and he was advised that the letter, containing such material, contravened editorial policy. However, he was advised, the final decision on all such matters rested with the Managing Board, and was asked if he wished the matter presented to that body.

Mr. Zinman elected to hold the letter for further consideration and has not re-submitted it.

The letter printed above was first submitted with the clause — "For a whole week, Alan Zinman repeatedly submitted a letter to The Daily discussing the question of the Tribune on campus." When this inaccuracy was pointed out to Mr. Nerenberg by the editor, he requested that the letter be held pending "consideration." The letter was resubmitted last night, minus this obviously false clause. F.C.

There has been considerable criticism about detective and mystery plays that clutter up the airwaves. But the fact remains that a well written, plausible, detective drama finds an audience among the discriminating listeners as well as among those people who are not as judicious in their choice of program as the so-called intellectual. For this reason, I think that many people will be interested in an ABC program called "Famous Jury Trials," in which famous cases of the past are enacted. This ABC production is heard on Saturdays at 8:30 p.m.

Eric McLean, entertainment editor of The Standard, reviews music, art and theatre events in Montreal for CBM listeners in his program "Sights and Sounds" each Monday at 7:45 p.m.

The first year in the life of the European Recovery Program — the Marshall Plan — will be the subject of a drama-document titled "E.R.P.: Operation Co-operation" to be presented by the National Broadcasting Company on its "Living-1949" series Sunday, Feb. 6 (4:35 p.m.).

The career of the late George Washington Carver, born in slavery, is the subject of NBC's "Eternal Light" drama Sunday, Feb. 6, 12:30 p.m. The Morton Wisengrad script is titled "The Man Who Knew Carver."

Endowed with a brilliant scientific mind and humbleness of spirit, Carver tried to serve his people by serving all mankind. In his laboratory at Tuskegee, he put the soil of the South under his microscope, took its ordinary products and broke them down in the test tube. Paint, dyes, plastics, cream and milk, medicines—all came from the peanut, the sweet potato and other overlooked products of the Southland. He gave the South new crops and new industries worth hundreds of millions of dollars, but would accept no fee or personal credit.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives wanted to hear about the peanut and what it could produce. He spoke to them, told them a few jokes, showed them his bottles.

"I was with him that day after he left the Committee," says the narrator at the close. "I went to Union Station with him and took the same train. He was always thoughtful and tactful and he made an excuse so that he could go to his car at the back of the train without making me feel badly because we weren't permitted to sit together. I don't suppose I'll ever forget that."

John Lund, Richard Widmark and Beatrice Pearson will be starred in Eugene O'Neill's Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Beyond The Horizon," when it is presented by the Theatre Guild On The Air Sunday, Feb. 6, at 9:30 p.m., over the American Broadcasting Company network.

Henry Morgan, radio's most unpredictable comic; Norman Thomas, five-time socialist candidate for President, and Mary Margaret McBride, NBC commentator, will be the guest experts on NBC's "Who Said That?" when the program moves to a new time slot Sunday, Feb. 6, 10:30-11:00 p.m.

Patricia Poitras, mezzo-soprano of Quebec City, and William Horne, tenor, of New York City will be the competitors on the season's 11th ABC broadcast of the METROPOLITAN OPERA AUDITIONS OF THE AIR on Sunday, Feb. 6, at 4:30 p.m. The young artists will be vying for contracts with the Metropolitan Opera and $1,000 cash awards. Wilfrid Pelletier will conduct the orchestra and Milton Cross will introduce the contestants and provide the commentary.

Conrad Thibault, noted baritone of radio and the concert stage, will be the guest artist on the ABC broadcast of CARNEGIE HALL, Sunday, Feb. 6, at 7:30 p.m., with Dr. Frank Black and his 26-voice male chorus and Concert Orchestra.

Rise Stevens, guest soloist, and Howard Barlow and the orchestra will present excerpts from Bizet's "Carmen" on NBC's "Voice of Firestone" program Monday, Feb. 7, 8:30 p.m.

by Irving Simms

Tevye the milkman had trouble. Not only was he poor as the mice who chased about the synagogue, but he had seven dowryless daughters to marry off, and not a suitor was there in sight. Mountains were molehills to Tevye, though, because he was a kassrlik; and a kassrlik is not just an ordinary pauper, a failure in life. He is a man who has not allowed poverty to degrade him—he laughs at it.

Tevye the milkman is the hero of this week's Stage 49 play, adapted by Canadian playwright Marian Waldman from some of the humorous stories in Shalom Aleichem's The Old Country. It will be heard on February 6th at 10:00 p.m. on Trans-Canada.

As a precocious youngster, in the Russian inn run by his struggling parents, Shalom Aleichem eavesdropped with gay irreverence on the cantors and musicians who rehearsed there, and on the travellers who poured their family troubles into the landlord's willing ears.

From those glimpses of the lives and thoughts of the provincial little man and his rich neighbor, he gathered a wealth of humor and pathos which he later worked into sympathetic tales about the small-town Russian Jew. Some of the most charming of these stories are to be found in The Old Country.

Incidentally, Hillel dramatic group is going to produce Shalom Aleichem's "It Is Hard To Be A Jew." THE TELEPHONE HOUR-Tenor Ferruccio Tagliavini again will be guest soloist, accompanied by the Bell Symphonic Orchestra directed by Donald Voorhees. This is an NBC program, Monday, 9 p.m.

With regard to radio activities on the McGill Campus, Radio Workshop has some big plans under way. It is quite likely that before another edition of this column appears in the Daily, a feature story will break with all the details about the future of radio at McGill.

I'll be D—ing you next week. This is Irving Simms signing off for the McGill Radio Workshop.

Ex Libris Canadians

The "March of Books" campaign which is currently being run on the McGill campus, is being conducted under the supervision of the McGill International Student Service Committee. The chairman, Harry Miller, announced recently that the I.S.S. is handling the campaign as one of its efforts to facilitate in the intellectual reconstruction of war-torn Europe.

Revival of learning in the war-devastated countries of the world is of tremendous importance to the future of all mankind. Peace and progress and all human development spring from the minds of men, from minds stimulated by the free exchange of knowledge and ideas. The chief instruments of this vital communication are books and of books there is, in centres of learning blighted by war, an appalling lack and a desperate need. In the realization that books are the basic tools of intellectual reconstruction was born the idea of the "March of Books," a joint project of the Canadian Council for Reconstruction through Unesco and the Canadian Library Association.

From scores of overseas libraries where surveys were conducted early in 1948 came graphic indications of need for information in every academic field. In addition to the fact that there occurred large-scale destruction of libraries during the war, there has been, for libraries in many countries, no access to the tremendous knowledge accumulated in many subjects since 1939. In the vitally important task of filling this need, Canadians everywhere are asked to help.

The "March of Books" will be a nation-wide campaign in Canada to collect from Canadians books and other publications of educational value for carefully supervised distribution to libraries destroyed or damaged during the war. Detailed investigation has been made of the need of overseas libraries, and the Canadian Book Centre is established at Halifax to screen books for subject matter, and to sort and despatch books to devastated countries. When the screening and sorting processes have been completed at the Book Centre, lists of available publications will be distributed to the libraries in the recipient countries. The authorities will then make application for any works for which they have special need. These will be despatched from the Book Centre as applications are received. Through this system the useful distribution of all contributions will be guaranteed.

The "March of Books" will be conducted on the theme of "Give a book to a hungry mind," and will operate in two phases. The first a direct appeal to Canadian libraries has already been inaugurated and librarians across Canada are busy selecting volumes from their shelves.

The second phase, a fully publicized nation-wide campaign, will be directed to the general public and to professional organizations whose members have collections of valuable scientific and technical publications. This general appeal will take place in the month following January 15, 1949.

To ensure that books and other publications contributed in the drive are educationally worthwhile, selective standards have been drawn up after careful consideration of the requirements of overseas libraries. Any material that is useful in Canada will be valuable in some overseas institution, but reports indicate that recent scientific and technical publications are particularly in demand. Material published during or after 1935 is especially required but standard works and classics in all subjects are also valuable. Periodicals and journals in every academic and artistic field will be collected. Books published in any language are acceptable.

From many countries have come specific requests for historical, geographical and economic information about Canada, particularly because, as the Science Library of Salzburg, Austria writes "Canada is the dream-land of many European immigrants." In this way March of Books can serve the incidental purpose of taking information about Canada and things Canadian to people the world over.

The effective revival of the intellectual life of war-blighted countries is a matter of concern for the world and for every Canadian. A successful March of Books can provide a valuable, practical contribution to that cause, and a tangible demonstration to the world that Canadians are determined to acknowledge and fulfil their intramural responsibility.

The McGill I.S.S. Committee makes an appeal to each McGill student to give this campaign his or her fullest support. Books will be accepted at the Union Tuck Shop until the 21st of this month. Further inquiries should be made to Harry Miller, chairman, McGill International Student Service Committee.

"Day of Wrath" Comes to Canada

On Saturday evening at 8.15 the University of Montreal Film Society will present for the first time in Canada Carl Drayer's "Day of Wrath." This was the picture which last year won the prize for being one of the two best foreign films of the year. It was described by Basil Wright, leader in the field of documentary motion pictures as being a work that "re-established the claim of the cinema to be an art," and was featured as "Picture of the Week" in LIFE Magazine.

The program will include as added attraction "Maya Deren."

There will be a 40-cent admission charge.

Dawson Dynamos Defeat Eastwards in Exhibition Tilt

Red Mermen Face Springfield in Dual Meet at NDG Pool

McGill's swimming team will face a strong Springfield squad at the N.D.G. pool Saturday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. This meet will be the Red Mermen's first home meet since their return from a very successful State's trip in which they won two out of three contests.

The overall dual meet record of McGill's stands at 4-1. Vic Curran's boys have all shown in spectacular fashion in all senior open events in Montreal and at the Quebec City Championships. Only the engineers of R.P.F. could turn back this fine aggregation.

The Springfield team which they face this Saturday is a squad which has fared well in competition against the top State schools. A swimming squad must be a good one to consistently encounter such U.S. swimming names as Dartmouth, Williams, and the mecca of the swimming mighty Yale. Noteworthy in the list of Springfield's victims in the 48-49 season, is R.P.F. The engineers were taken into camp by a good margin.

MERROW NUCLEUS

Coach Curran's squad will present several outstanding men to withstand what could be a rout. His backstroke entry is outstanding Adrin Merrow, "the iron man" of the team who will probably swim in three events as usual. He is the nucleus, in himself, of any of McGill's chances. He now has broken every Dominion record for the backstroke event. Adin last Saturday broke the remaining Canadian marks in an open meet in Montreal.

Peter Mingie, Canada's Olympic backstroke, has improved so much over his Olympic efforts that he too is threatening records. The development of his potential promise has been a great boon to the McGill squad and a source of gratification to his coach. Pete's diving efforts too mark him as an important cog in the Red Mermen's success.

The "Red Seahorse" having swept all opposition from his path on the States invasion, is ready for victory at home. The 220 lb. butterfly giant hurled his frame to the finest swimming performances of his career in the recent U.S. trip. Discarding the orthodox breast-stroke, Kopin now relies on straight power for his laurels, and this has paid off well. He is eight seconds away from glory, the Dominion record.

The crawl department seems set to make a strong show with the fine performances of Graham Rainbow, Elliot Young, Dick Fullerton and Jim Quale. These fellows are always all-out performers regardless of outcome.

Victory against Springfield is in the opinion of swimming observers, quite unlikely. The swimming resurgence brought on during the tenure of Coach Curran is as yet too raw to accomplish such a feat. The competition will be invaluable to the "Red Mermen" and serve to accustom them to the type of school they must conquer in order to gain recognition as a great swimming power.

The team will journey to Toronto in late February for the C.I.A.U. swimming championships. Toronto has had 12 consecutive winning years, edging Coach Curran's team last year by the margin of a single point. The McGill hope is a "lucky 13th year." They should not be turned back this year.

Second Squash Meet Set for Next Week

Mike Brodeur, a first year Arts student, defeated Doug Bourke of the engineers in the final of the annual intramural tournament by a score of 3-0. Brodeur showed good form throughout and should soon be up among the top players. Bourke who was unseeded defeated first seeded Jim Morrison, 3-2, while Brodeur eliminated Al Baxter 3-0.

Those who are above number 17 on the "A" ladder and the semi-finalists of the first tournament will compete in the second tournament next week.

Important Notice

Girls turning out for the Carnival Cadettes skating chorus line will practice today on the Mettish rink from 2.00-4.00 o'clock. Practice for Monday is set from 1.00-2.00. Both these practices are extremely important and all skaters are asked to turn out.

BAND PRACTICE

The Band will hold two practices in preparation for the Winter Carnival Ice Show at the Forum. The first will be held: TIME: 6.15 p.m. DATE: Monday. PLACE: Currie Gym.

Track Men Needed for Legion Meet

All track men interested in competing in the Legion Indoor Meet to be held at the Forum on March 7 are asked to report to coach Van Wagner as soon as possible.

Both McGill and Dawson men are eligible to enter in the many events. These include open fifty, five hundred and one thousand yard runs, a two mile, fifty yard high hurdles, and the high jump. The coach will also place a team in the mile relay.

Other events are included in the meet for those under 18 and 20. In open runs the McGill team will have the opportunity of competing against many of the top athletes in the country. Last year (these included Bob Macfarlane and Herb McKinley).

The importance of this meet from the McGill point of view is the bearing it will have on the annual trip to the Hamilton Indoor Meet. The Red team took both the mile and half mile relay in the meet last year, capturing the Wigle Trophy as the top Indoor Collegiate Mile Relay team in Canada.

Training for this meet is now going on at the Gym and the Forum. Prospective candidates are welcome. Practice hours for the week are posted on the notice board in the locker room.

Chemists Go Visiting

The members of the McGill C.I.C. will make a tour of the Department of Chemistry at the University of Montreal this afternoon. They will gather at the Chemistry Building, McGill at 3 p.m. or at the main entrance to the Science Wing (east wing) at U. of M. at 3.30.

Band Needs New Men For Carnival Show

Plans released by the Winter Carnival executive for the Ice Show at the Forum on February 18th indicate that the McGill band will be playing a prominent part.

The executive has asked the band committee to have the band turn out in force for this spectacle, and in view of this has reserved a special block of seats in the mezzanine of the Forum for members.

In preparation the band is holding two practices, the first of which will be held at 6.15 p.m. on Monday, February 7th, in the Currie Gym.

The success of this endeavor rests on a complete turnout of all present members of the band and others who possess musical ability.

NFCUS Dramas Granted Small Royalties Rates

NFCUS has announced the results of its communication with the Samuel French Company on the question of concessions in royalties on plays produced by Dramatic groups within the Federation. The company, it is reported, has agreed to grant the following concessions, similar to those in effect before the war.

Although it will not be possible to obtain blanket discounts, NFCUS members will enjoy the smallest possible royalty rate. The company's statement read: "On the average play carrying a royalty fee of $25.00 we will be glad to quote you a special royalty of $25.00 for a first performance and $15.00 for each additional performance. This is a minimum royalty on this class of play. On all other classes, we will quote you the minimum fee, that it the lowest fee we are permitted to accept under our contract with the author or the copyright owner."

It was pointed out that a certain play category existed on which the company was not permitted to reduce royalties under any conditions. "Charley's Aunt" and the plays of the late J. M. Barrie were included in this class.

Red And Blue Run Wild Over E.Y.C.; Ross-Ross Stars

By JACK ABRAMS

Dawson Senior MBL cagers broke loose last night with a 61-33 win over the Eastward Athletic club Intermediate A MBL team in an exhibition game at the Orlick Gym.

The game started in high gear with both teams playing all out. The red and blue took the lead but it was a major accomplishment to hold it as both teams, scored on phenomenal shots from all over the court. The half ended with Dawson on top 23-21.

Second Half

As the second half opened the dynamic D's spurred ahead 20-21 in the first two minutes. Pat Ross-Ross played capone on the M.C.'s zone defence as he plunked them from afar.

From here on the Dawson defence tightened as they played a close rhecking man to man game all the way. Carl Totzke and George Flumerfelt making their

by JACK RICHER

The Dawson hockey squad defeated Sir George Williams College by the score of 1-0. The game was played at Dawson and under very bad conditions. It was snowing.

The first two periods were slow and scoreless and the one and only goal of the game came of the stick of George Valois on a pass from senion with around four minutes left in the third period. In their first encounter, which was an exhibition tilt, Sir George Williams defeated the Dynamos.

ENGLISH AND VALOIS

The star of the game for Sir George was Keith English, the Alouette football star, while the standouts for the Dawson team were Valois, Zemel and Ferguson. Valois played football for the Redmen this season and was formerly a hockey player for Montreal High and the Junior Canadiens. Ferguson, the goaler obtained his first shutout of the season. He is in first year engineering and this is his first year playing organized hockey. Ruby Zemel has been a star defenceman for the Dawson team for the past two years and was formerly an all-star defenceman in the Protestant Section of the High School League.

Pin Contest Held By Engineers

The third year engineer's class pin contest will be held open until February 15th. To date several promising designs have been submitted but more entries would be welcomed.

The design of the pin should be compact, preferably in a simple unit, for economy and convenience, the cost and labor varying directly with the number of component parts. It is fairly difficult to place all the symbols on the pin of the different branches of engineers, namely, civil, chemical, mechanical, electrical, applied mechanics and, last but not least, engineering physics. Probably some symbols may be on the pin to give the impression that the pin is associated with engineering. In sort then, the ultimate goal is to have a pin that will be worthwhile owning and wearing.

So put all thoughts aside except those for class pin designs and send them in today. More than one design may be entered by any who are prolifically endowed with creative genius. The actual prize has not yet been decided upon but it will be something that can be retained for posterity.

Senior and Intermediate Skiers Active—Snow Report Very Good

Both of McGill's ski teams are out of town this week-end. The seniors are in Banff, Alberta, to participate in the International Intercollegiate Ski meet, while the intermediates are attempting to retain their championship in the CIAU meet at North Hatley.

The seniors arrived in Banff, yesterday, two days in advance of the meet. This early arrival was planned to give the men time to accustom themselves to the fast, tricky slopes of Mount Norquay, the scene of the meet.

The meet opens with the downhill on Saturday, and closes on Sunday with the running of the slalom and the giant downhill.

The University of Alberta, the sponsoring club, has lined up an entry list that is completely representative of North American college skiing.

Dartmouth is carrying the banners of the eastern American colleges. Alberta, together with the University of British Columbia represents western Canada. Western USA has by far the largest stake in the proceeding with Oregon, Portland, Montana, Washington, Colorado, Denver and Utah, all participating.

Coach Vic Allen, of the McGill

SNOW REPORT AND SKI CONDITIONS

WEATHER REPORT: The Dominion Public Weather office forecasts snow all day, with a high temperature of 15 above and a low of 8 above zero. Winds: light, north-easterly, 15 m.p.h.

SNOW REPORT: Mount Tremblant, Ste. Agathe, St. Adele, Morin Heights, St. Saver, Shawbridge, Piedmont, St. Donat and Rawdon—all report powdered snow over packed snow, lifts and tows operating. Conditions generally very good.

The team took six of his stalwarts to Banff with him. The group travelled by TCA and includes, Jack (Porky) Griffin, Ted Graves, Ted Keyhoe, John Turner-Bone, Bruce Fleming and Don Smith.

INTERMEDIATES

McGill's intermediate team has a unique record to uphold. They have won the intermediate CIAU title, every year since its inception several seasons ago.

Two of the major point-getters for the team in last year's meet, Andy Hugesen and Ted Dawson are wearing the Red and White colors again this season. Dawson's specialty is the jump while Hugesen is at his best in the slalom and cross-country events. Coach Vic Allen has two downhill aces in Bruce Ramsey and John Fry. Both are entered in this event as well as the slalom. Baird Davis and Buzz Cockfield handle the jumping and cross-country assignments.

The champions will receive a stiff battle from the seven other competing universities. Laval, runners-up in last year's contest, will field a strong team. The squad is paced by its ace Elle Turgeon.

The University of Montreal's team under the tutelage of Chris Gibbon has come up with a powerful team. The squad is centered around veterans Andre Senecal and Gerin Lajole. Taschereau champion Malcom Baker will fly the colors of O.A.C.

The meet consists of four events. The downhill and slalom will be run today, while the jumpers and cross-country men work out tomorrow.

Important Notice

Jerry Rowe, in charge of the co-ed skating chorus line "The Carnival Cadettes," is calling for volunteers to help her with the costumes that the girls will wear on the evening of their performance at the Forum. Any aspiring young ladies (and be sure that they are needed) are asked to let Jerry know at R.V.C.

Revue Attractions Feature Gals, Tunes, Dancing, Decor

Show Opens Wednesday

All the elements which go to make up a good Campus revue—on any Campus—can easily be listed. What you need is a group of pretty gals to do the dancing. These lovely ladies must have the right music, appropriately arranged, to which they perform the graceful routines. There must be tuneful songs with tricky lyrics. You need a group of lively characters to put the script over. Colorful backgrounds and costumes are every bit as essential as a catchy musical score. Then you need someone to compile the script and pull the show together.

Fred Barnes, the Producer of this year's Revue has found copious quantities of all the above elements right here on our own Campus. His Chorus is composed of coeds who can dance and who please the eye. The music has been arranged for eleven instruments by a veteran of three Revues, Stan Martin. He has furnished the overture and numbers for dancing.

So far then, we have the combination of Producer, Gals, and the man who makes the music. To this imposing list we must immediately add the name of the choreographer, George Cardan. Mr. Cardan comes to Revue with a scrapbook full of notices... fine ones, too... which he has kept over the years in London, England. His most recent work, before coming to Montreal, was in intimate revues in London. Sweetest and Low, Sweetest and Lowest, and he was at the Windmill.

The combination of all the elements is with us... the right combination. Everything is very busy in the rehearsal department, and the gals who make the costumes are snipping away at great speed. Tickets for this year's Red and White Revue are now on sale at the Central Ticket Office in the Union and at Burton's Book Store. The tickets are being sold at prices which will please you. It is good indeed to see the show itself on the way up... while the prices are going down.

A new record in the number of shows to be given is being set this year. The show will open in Moyse Hall, on the evening of Wednesday, February 9th. It will run every night, plus a Saturday Matinee. It will be impossible to see the Revue on the Sunday evening until the Tuesday of the next week, which occurs right in the middle of the run. We just won't be putting the Revue on that night.

Committee Announces Plans For Annual Plumbers' Ball

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Plumbers' Ball have announced that all plans for this traditional function are now complete.

The following officers of the University and their wives have graciously extended their patronage: Chief Justice and Mrs. O. S. Tyndale, Chancellor; Dr. and Mrs. F. Cyril James, Principal; Dean and Mrs. J. J. O'Neill, Vice-Principal of McGill; Professor and Mrs. Carleton Craig, Vice-Principal of Dawson College. The list of honored guests is headed by the president of the Graduates Society, Mr. F. G. Ferrabee and Mrs. Ferrabee. It includes the chairmen of all the departments in the Faculty of Engineering, certain members of the Faculty and representatives from the engineers at Varsity, Ajax and Queen's.

Tickets for the Ball which is being held on Feb. 11, at 10 p.m. in the Currie gym, may be obtained from Fred Barlow in the Engineering Building at $5 per couple. Each ticket purchaser receives a specially designed invitation card which should be mailed to the girl he has asked to the Ball.

Music for continuous dancing will be in the capable hands of Blake Sewell in the main Gym and Rob Adams in the B.W. & F. room. These two orchestras produced the very danceable music at the dance last year and for this reason were chosen for a return engagement.

Main interest in the decorations will be centred on the six murals produced by the various professional clubs in the faculty. These, it is reported, are well on the way to completion. Several table displays are being planned; for instance the electricals are intending to do strange things with half a hundred thousand volts.

Table reservation may be obtained on Tuesday, February 8th between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. at a table set up for the purpose in the lobby of the Engineering Building. Tables are all of the same size and will hold eight (8) couples. Ticket numbers for all couples involved must be handed in when the reservation is made.

McGill Debaters Defeat Loyola In First Tussle of the Season

A McGill debating team won the first I.U.D.L. debate of the season when they defeated Loyola College by a unanimous decision in the Union last night. The topic was, "Resolved that the future of the Western Democracies can be best served by immediate war with Russia."

The McGill team, which upheld the negative, consisted of Peter Sinclair and Roland LaPrairie while the affirmative was argued by Charles Lovell and Thomas Sullivan of Loyola.

The debate was one of ten simultaneous debates held on the same topic by the Inter-University Debating League which comprises ten Eastern Canadian Universities. The affirmative's contention was that war with Russia was inevitable and that we should defeat Russia while we still had the opportunity. The negative's argument was that we could not destroy an ideological concept and hence that until destruction at this time was unwarranted, unnecessary, and would only provide new breeding grounds for the Communist menace.

Of the four debaters, Peter Sinclair of McGill, was chosen the best speaker by a majority decision. The three judges were J. N. Nickell, former executive member of the Montreal Debating League, the Rev. R. Gordon Burgoyne, and G. S. Brash, prominent Montreal debating judges. The debate was chaired by Leo Kolber, member of the McGill Debating Society.

The next debate in this series will be held on Thursday, Feb. 27, in the McGill Union, where the same topic will be debated.

Interfaculty Debate

Arts and Science defeated Law in an interfaculty debate in the New Room of the Union yesterday afternoon. The debate was said to be of the best held this year in the interfaculty league.

The A.S. team upheld the negative of the resolution, "That Voting Should be Made Compulsory in Canada." Gerald Charness and Mel Rothman maintained that voting was a privilege, not a duty, and thus the freedom of an individual to abstain from voting must be allowed.

Supporting the negative side of the question were John Walsh and Charles Phelan who represented Law. They observed that voting was a duty and as such should be compulsory, stating the example of Australia, New Zealand, and Austria.

Sidney Phillips, top debator, judged the debate and offered excellent comments.

nal commodity, lacked some of the sweeping grandeur and sartorial impeccability of the wealthy Englishman. However, his superb diction and sincere approach more than made up for what might be considered trifling deficiencies.

Kenneth Haslam, a last-minute replacement, came to the fore admirably.

Let it be clearly understood that this was in no way a bad show. On the contrary, it was an interesting and worthwhile effort. However, if Trinity had not had the admirable services of Herbert Whitaker, they would certainly have had a most dismal failure on their hands. For the first time this year a cast has been assembled that had a clear conception of where it was going. There is absolutely no reason for them to discontinue this policy—it is a policy.

Trinity's reputation for lamentable productions is gradually being erased, mainly through the extension of casting to include members of other amateur groups. The first step in the right direction was taken when Mr. Whitaker was chosen as guest director. Whether they have been influenced in their casting policy by their directors, or whether they have suddenly awakened to the limitations of the talent within their own circle, is a nebulous question. Nevertheless, the loved to use the Union," observed Mary Munroe, B.A. 4. "As long as LPP is a recognized club on the campus, moreover I can see no reason why it should not be a recognized club."

Mary was followed by a second year Arts student Milton Winston. "If it can be established that the LPP is responsible for the activities of its individual members," then according to the By-law of the Union, the action taken was correct. If however, this cannot be proved and no public hearing is given then the action taken is entirely unjustified."

Sheila Dawson, B.A. 3, "I think it a good idea if they broke the rules!" "If they broke the rules punishment is justified, since after all they were warned. Yet, I think it hard to prove whether they are within or without the law," said Dave Fermer, B.Sc. 3.

Nurses Attend Institute At Beatty Memorial Hall

Members of the various branches of nursing in Montreal, together with the students at the School for Graduate Nurses, gathered at Beatty Memorial Hall on Wednesday and Thursday of this week to attend a Medical and Surgical Institute. It was conducted by Miss M. Faddis, Associate Professor of Medical Nursing, and Miss R. Evans, Associate Professor of Surgical Nursing of the Francis Bolton School of Nursing, Western University, Cleveland.

The Wednesday morning program consisted of two separate concurrent sessions with Miss Faddis speaking on Medical Nursing and Miss Evans on Surgical Nursing. These sessions were repeated on Thursday morning so that by alternating, nurses were afforded the opportunity of hearing both speakers.

Miss Faddis, who is the author of several books on nursing, took as her topic, "Objective in Medical Nursing." She spoke first on the goals to be achieved; a basic program should be grouped around a central theme of acquiring an understanding of the cause, symptoms, course, methods of treatment, and prevention of medical diseases. She stresses the importance of teaching specific correlation of the theoretical material with the actual practical care of each individual patient.

Miss Faddis then went on to discuss the central and contributory objectives of an advanced programme both in theory and in practice.

In the Surgical Nursing section Miss Evans stated that the central objective of their school was to develop a broader background of knowledge of general surgical conditions and related nursing procedures, and an ability to apply this knowledge in effectively planning for nursing care. She stressed the importance of recognizing the psychic stresses the co-exist with and contribute to every physical disease. Miss Evans also emphasized the need for appreciating the problems involved in the physical, psychological, economical, and social rehabilitation of the patient in the community.

On Wednesday evening the speakers held a joint session on the correlation of Medical and Surgical Nursing Services. Miss Evans stated that the integration and correlation of theory and practice are necessary parts of the student nurse's education. She went on to outline the three plans in general use for the link-up of clinical experience, and to discuss certain devices which facilitate putting them into practice.

Miss Faddis spoke on the problems connected with the correlation of the medical and surgical nursing services. She stated that the extent to which they can be correlated is quite limited, and it is determined by whether or not they are segregated services. Where there is no segregation, their correlation saves duplication but presents definite problems.

The latter part of this session was devoted to answering and discussing questions which the students had previously handed in. Thursday afternoon's session consisted of a discussion of the organization and content of advanced clinical progress in medical and surgical nursing now offered in many university schools of nursing.

M.O.C. SHAWBRIDGER

This Friday evening, a Gala Party will be held in the Union Ballroom under the auspices of the McGill Outing Club.

Although this Friday night's doings will be one of the biggest affairs ever put on by the M.O.C. this year, it will not differ from any of the previous shindigs in the way of enjoyment; and all their affairs are noted for just that.

The party has been organized by amiable Carey Stad, who is no novice at arranging a good time. He will have genial Viv Cullen playing the role of M.C. Viv is an experienced master of jokes, as all those who attended the Hayseed Hop, will recall.

John Waller, the "Professor," will be the caller for the popular Square Dances, and will be backed by the male-female M.O.C. Trio, which consists of guitar, violin, and piano. But, that is not all. As an added attraction... and what an attraction... the M.O.C. has acquired three interesting movie films.

First on the agenda, will be the Technicolor film, "Ski Pros' Holiday," a delightful movie which was produced by Lugli Foeger, the same man that directed "Rhythm on Snow," which proved so popular at the last Athletics Night.

This will be followed by another film... as yet unnamed. Concluding the "movie" section of the party, will be "Woodmen's Weekend," a reel taken by one of Dartmouth's professors last spring when the M.O.C. sent a group to Dartmouth for the intercollegiate Outing Association's campcraft meet.

Throughout the evening, refreshments will be served. The price of admission is 50 cents per person, and the party will be a stag affair.

Around the Campus

Women's Science Club
The regular monthly meeting of the McGill Women's Science Club will be held on Monday, February seventh at five p.m. in the R.V.C. Common Room.

Dr. R. V. Nichols of the Chemistry Department will speak on "Nuclear Chemistry and the use of Isotopes." Refreshments will be served.

Cosmo Club

The challenge issued by the ladies of the Cosmo has been accepted by this year's intercollegiate Rugby champions. The battle will take the form of an ice hockey match to be played on the McTavish St. rink.

There will be an Ice Follies matinee on Feb. 12 at the Forum, and recitals will be offered by Paul Loyonnet at His Majesty's on Feb. 13 and 20, and March 6. The Ballet Music Hall will take place at the Monument National on Feb. 19.

As the Gieseking Concert has been cancelled, members who bought tickets at the Secretariat should claim their money as soon as possible.

Members and friends are invited to visit the Secretariat of the Association, each Sunday or Saturday afternoon from 2 until 5, where there will be an exhibition of the works of Leo Ayotte, Claire Fauteux, Maurice Le Bel and Ethel Seath.

Group arrangements can be made to visit the Museum and Arts and Crafts Schools by calling Mrs. A. Myette, FR. 8200.

Registration is still accepted for the Ballet Dance Contest and Competition for Wind and Percussion Instruments. For further details concerning these competitions, please call Miss Bergeron at FR. 1119.

All those who wish to join Les Amis de l'Art; please note that registration is now reopened.

played on the McTavish St. rink.

Grad Students Go Swimming
There will be swimming for grad students at the N.D.G.-Y. this evening starting at 8 o'clock. Price is 45c a person, towels cost 5c. Swim suits must be brought as there are none to rent.

Sudbury, Ont. — A. V. Seymour, Sudbury prospector, believes he has the first pack of bloodhounds ever whelped in Canada. Born on Thanksgiving Day, the pups — four males and two females — are expected to be trained for the search of lost persons.

LATE NEWS

O.A.C. WINS

London.—O.A.C. defeated U. of Western Ontario here last night in a debate. Further information will appear in Monday's Daily. The subject of the debate was not known.

The Daily published today received a letter from three former L.P.P. executives publicly announcing their resignation, to the student body. They wished to dissociate their individual actions from the general policies of the organization so that the true purpose of the club was not confused with their personal political opinions.

The critical issue at stake was the ban on L.P.P. meetings in the Union by the Union House Committee for a period of five months. Thus in effect the club is prevented from meeting for the remainder of the academic year.

PICKET NOT FOUND

A survey of campus fraternities conducted last night by The Daily failed to reveal any information concerning the unidentified fraternity member, who allegedly paraded St. Catherine street in protest against the Quebec margarine ban, Wednesday evening last.

The placarded "student" was pictured yesterday on page one of a Montreal newspaper. The caption reported a display to have taken place on the downtown street.

The picketer's placard read: "WE WANT MARGARINE—EVEN ON TARIO HAS IT."

CARNIVAL WOULD BE QUEEN

As many of her sponsors know, Miss Tina Marion Dale's name was omitted from those running for Carnival Queen. It was through no oversight on the part of the Carnival Committee.

Miss Dale was on her way to the Union on Tuesday, when she attempted to cross "suicide corner," she attempted to, for she was hit by a car at the corner of Sherbrooke and McGill College, and her body was dragged almost to Victoria St. Miss Dale is at present resting comfortably in the hospital.
